Today, I may be known as an entrepreneur in metals, mining and energy but I first experienced success in something different, optical cables and fibre. And through Sterlite Technologies it remains a passion for me. Let me tell you why.

For the benefits of economic growth to reach every Indian, connectivity is fundamental. Good roads are one part, which enable people to access the world beyond their town or village. In today's world, digital highways are as important, if not more, than roads. People can have access to the entire world via the internet. I believe that our youth will be empowered to find and build their own livelihoods using their smartphones and affordable laptops.

Digital highways also have to be built physically with optical Fibre. Only then is the quality of connectivity first rate.

The Government's promise to connect each one of India's 2.5 lakh gram panchayats with optical fibre is nearly done with 7 lakh kilometres of cable laid.

Full coverage of every corner of India is the next goal. And to speed up laying of Fibre, Right of way and speedier clearances are the need of the hour.

I am happy that Sterlite Technologies is the largest manufacturer of optical Fibre in India. We hold nearly 700 patents and serve 100 countries. We are privileged to be playing a small part in the Government's very successful programme to connect and empower every Bharatiya.

Interacting with pets can lower blood pressure, slow heart rate, regulate breathing, and relax tensed muscles!

To commemorate World Health Day, BALCO hosted a "Swasth Chaupal" aimed at educating and raising awareness among employees, business partners, and senior leaders on healthy eating habits, the correlation between lifestyle and health, and various topics related to health and fitness. Over 100 individuals participated in this extensive awareness and check-up campaign, where attendees underwent screenings for prevalent health concerns such as blood pressure and blood sugar levels.
