BALCO organized Samvedna, a safety event that garnered active participation from employees. The event aimed to motivate, train, and acknowledge individuals who have encountered safety incidents within the plant during the current financial year. It focused on inspiring individuals through specialized training sessions and interactions with senior management. The Safety Event appointed Safety Ambassadors within various departments to communicate Cardinal rules, report safety observations, and address unsafe acts through ROKO-TOKO within their designated areas. The knowledge and skills acquired through this program not only benefit employees personally but also contribute significantly to fostering a culture of safety within the organisation.
