Youth are much more conscious about fitness and good health today.

Lekin I always tell my children and all youngsters - as much importance you give to your external appearance, it is equally important to exercise your mind and better yourself from within, such as your attitude and behaviour towards life.

Over time, I have formed my routine which has helped my mind and body equally. I have a long way to go, but everyday there's a small improvement.

My daily routine involves an hour's swim, 30 minutes light weight training and 30 mins meditation. These 2 hours are the most important of my day. I feel I can function 10x better with this.

Today I will also introduce you all to my wife's secret green juice recipe. She has made it a part of my diet for years and even though I didn't enjoy it much before - now I'm sure this has helped me tremendously in life.

Asked her the recipe and sharing with all of you:

Lauki, karela, spinach, aloe vera, amla, lemon juice, celery and ginger.

Ek week try karke bataiye! Let me know how you feel.

Also what's your daily dose of health?

Anil Agarwal, Chairman, Vedanta Limited
