The world is racing to secure mineral supply chains. The US and Canada have moved to fast-track approvals for key mineral projects for reasons of national security. India is also moving in that direction.

The one gamechanger which can truly speed up processes is self-certification.

The Government uses it very effectively in other areas like income tax. It is time to extend it to projects of national importance and urgency.

BALCO organized a photography exhibition designed with the festive essence of Navratri in a Bengali aesthetic. The display featured a collection of photographs captured by the employees of BALCO, offering a glimpse into their perspective. A special section traced BALCO's six-decade journey of industrial excellence, while a dedicated wall celebrated the countless smiles BALCO has brought to the lives of communities in and around Balconagar. Adding to the experience, a selfie corner inspired by the iconic cityscape of Kolkata invited visitors to capture their festive moments.
